Louis Klein entered a complaint in the mayor's court yesterday charging John Hadgett with assault and battery. He claimed that Hadgett hit him on the head with a beer mallet on February 9. Officers Dawson and Gill got their man last evening and grand larceny. Klein was summoned to appear against him. John was arraigned and within 20 minutes after the charge had been filed Klein withdrew the complaint and Hadgett was allowed to go.

Yesterday afternoon two well known characters were seen on upper Avondale street and had a handsome family Bible in their possession which they were making a strenuous effort to sell to some of the residents in that community. On the night of February 11 Faulk's mill was entered and two barrels of flour were stolen. As soon as the theft was discovered the authorities were notified and started at once on the case. While the investigations in the sherry matter were in progress Chief Thompson and his men found traces of the flour about the Louis Call shanty boat, and from then until yesterday quantities of the flour have been found at various places until the authorities have gotten together about 16 sacks. The stolen property is now at city hall.

Bill and Moses Call were brought in this morning and when the mayor was through reading the charge Bill was so excited that he became confused and said: "Well, we didn't break the door." He recovered himself in an instant and they both pleaded not guilty.

The hearing is set for this afternoon, when it is likely they will plead guilty, as the authorities have an open and shut case against hem.

The boys say they bought the flour at Schmidt's grocery, but were not able to explain the idea for purchasing in such large quantities. To the present Sam Dawson has not been implicated in this affair, and it is hardly likely he will be, as Andrew Call, the principal witness, did not see him about at the time.

OTHER ITEMS IN POLICE COURT CASES ARE NOW BEING HEARD

The Call boys had scarcely become entangled in one wrestle with the authorities by reason of their wrong doing until they were compelled to face another and more serious charge of grand larceny.

On the night of February 11 Faulk's mill was entered and two barrels of flour were stolen. As soon as the theft was discovered the authorities were notified and started at once on the case. While the investigations in the sherry matter were in progress Chief Thompson and his men found traces of the flour about the Louis Call shanty boat, and from then until yesterday quantities of the flour have been found at various places until the authorities have gotten together about 16 sacks. The stolen property is now at city hall.

Bill and Moses Call were brought in this morning and when the mayor was through reading the charge Bill was so excited that he became confused and said: "Well, we didn't break the door." He recovered himself in an instant and they both pleaded not guilty.

The hearing is set for this afternoon, when it is likely they will plead

The boys say they bought the flour at Schmidt's grocery, but were not able to explain the idea for purchasing in such large quantities. To the present Sam Dawson has not been implicated in this affair, and it is hardly likely he will be, as Andrew Call, the principal witness, did not see him about at the time.

Before the Erection of a New Building Is Commenced In City Limits.

MIGHT AS WELL BE REPEALED

The ordinance to regulate the erection of buildings in this city is practically a dead letter and might as well be erased from the ordinance books for all the attention that is paid to it.

Every person knows that a great deal of building was done in the city last year, but few permits were taken off at the stove and at the same time

The ordinance on the subject is as follows:

"No person or persons shall erect or place any building, or part of any building; or any addition to any building within the corporate limits of said city unless the outer walls thereof be made of brick and mortar, or of stone and mortar, or of iron, backed by brick or stone and mortar with lateral walls, extending at least 10 inches above the roof, and the roof thereof be covered with fireproof material, unless such person or persons shall first obtain the consent of council. Permits for the erection, or material alteration, of wooden buildings within said territory shall be granted, where in the opinion of council, it would not be detrimental to the adjacent or contiguous property owners, and which permits must be in writing and signed by the clerk."

"It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to erect, or begin to erect any dwelling or storeroom, or other building or buildings, subject to taxation without informing city clerk in what ward said building is to be located, whether brick or frame dwelling. or store room, or for what purpose said building is to be used, the probable cost of same and upon what lot or part of said lot said building is to be located, and obtaining a permit as required elsewhere in this ordinance.

"Every permit issued by said clerk shall show in what ward said building is located, and for what purpose said building is to be used, the probable cost of the same. Said clerk shall keep ar accurate record of same and furnish the assessor of each ward a detailed statement of same by the third Monday of April of each year."

The ordinance also provides that the city clerk shall be notified in case a building is burned.

A penalty of $10 is provided for failing to comply with the ordinance.

BOARD OF HEALTH

Should Care for And Buy Food for People Who Are Under Quarantine.

According to Prosecuting Attorney Brookes it is the duty of the board of health to care for and provide food for persons who are quarantined. His decision was rendered to settle a controversy between the Salem board of health and township trustees.

The prosecutor says: "It is the duty of the local board of health to take care of people under quarantine and buy them food. The board of health is then to send the bills to the city council for payment. The latter is legally bound to pay the bills. Attorney Brookes said it was the duty of the city and not the township trustees to pay the bills."

METHODS OF SUICIDE.

How Desperate Persons Adopt Prevailing Styles of Destruction.

"The remarkable methods several suicides have adopted in this city recently call attention to the fact that methods of self destruction are largely matters of suggestion," said a doctor. "When a man gets in that condition where he wants to die, he has little inventive ability and adopts the method that has been brought to his mind. You will notice that after one person kills himself with acid there follows a long list of acid suicides. It is the same with any unusual method. One person gets up original way, and that inspires the sext one to try his hand until we have

"I have proved this theory. Several years ago I was discussing this feature of suicide with several friends, including the coroner. They ridiculed my theory. I offered to prove it. It happened that shooting and hanging were popular just then. I wrote an article for a newspaper on the horrors of strangulation and pistol wounds and explained the ease with which one could kill himself with prussic acid. Death from prussic acid, you know, is absolutely instantaneous and, many believe, painless. There had not been a suicide with this acid for more than a year, but within a week after the article was published there were four, and one of the unfortunates had clippings of my article in his pocket.

"Of course I was accused of killing these four by suggestion, but I was never arrested and do not feel guilty. for when once a person has decided to kill himself the method is a slight matter. No person in his right mind will commit suicide. We all know in our sane moments of easy ways to end life, but when in the suicidal frame of mind nature seems to rob us of our reason in this direction, as if in a desperate hope of preventing the sacrifice."-New York Mail and Express.

HOUSES ON "MADE" GROUND

The Reason They Teem With Malaria and Noxious Gases.

Good gravel has so largely come into request that many suburban lands with that valuable substratum are quarried to a considerable depth to fore being sold on building leases. But it is essential to restore a level surface, as even the most speculative builder would besitate to run up "neat villa residences" in deep holes. The owner frequently gets over this difficulty by allowing urban refuse to be shot into the excavation; in many cases he even exacts a small sum for every load tilted on his ground. The surface being thus leveled, a year or two are allowed for the soil to sink and become compact. Occasionally grass is sown to give a natural appearance to the spot.

All is now in readiness for the builder, who proceeds to lay the foundation for his "terraces," "avenues" and "gardens," which he subsequently advertises as "on gravel soil." So they are, but between their ground floors and the gravel lies a thick stratum of partially decomposed rubbish, teaming with malaria, and not for many years will the deposits cease to give off noxious

But the tenant, coming from a different locality, knows nothing of the "making" process to which the plot has been subjected. When, therefore, ill health dogs his family, he puts it down to defective drainage or some other structural deficiency and spends money freely on remedial measures without the least benefit. All this Miss Verona Brown, who has been misery might be prevented if it were legally prohibited to build human habitations on decomposed refuse until the soil had acquired a wholesome character.-London Globe.

How They Treated Washington.

As an example of the progress of medicine during the last century The Medical Record cites the case of Washington's last illness. He died of laryngeal diphtheria, and the treatment was, it would seem, for an old man sick with a disease, very exhausting to the vitality. It consisted in the abstraction of between two and three quarts 20 grains of calomel and 6 grains of tartar emetic and an injection, with external application of blister. And yet so strong was Washington's constitution that he survived this treatment for 24 hours.

Some excitement was caused at the home of Frank White yesterday evening when the rubber hose which connects the pipe with a gas stove came off at the stove and at the same time ignited.

The flames caught in the table cover and some papers. Things began to look serious when one of the boys, who had more presence of mind than the others, turned off the gas, and the fire was extinguished before any serious damage was done.

METHODS OF SUICIDE.

How Desperate Persons Adopt Prevailing Styles of Destruction.

"The remarkable methods several suicides have adopted in this city recently call attention to the fact that methods of self destruction are largely matters of suggestion," said a doctor. "When a man gets in that condition where he wants to die, he has little inventive ability and adopts the method that has been brought to his mind. You will notice that after one person kills himself with acid there follows a long list of acid suicides. It is the same with any unusual method. One person gets up original way, and that inspires the ext one to try his hand until we have a whole series of such grewsome nov-

"I have proved this theory. Several years ago I was discussing this feature of suicide with several friends, including the coroner. They ridiculed my theory. I offered to prove it. It happened that shooting and hanging were popular just then. I wrote an article for a newspaper on the horrors of strangulation and pistol wounds and explained the ease with which one could kill himself with prussic acid. Death from prussic acid, you know, is absolutely instantaneous and, many believe, painless. There had not been a suicide with this acid for more than a year, but within a week after the article was published there were four, and one of the unfortunates had clippings of my article in his pocket.

"Of course I was accused of killing these four by suggestion, but I was never arrested and do not feel guilty. for when once a person has decided to kill himself the method is a slight matter. No person in his right mind will commit suicide. We all know in our sane moments of easy ways to end life. but when in the suicidal frame of mind nature seems to rob us of our reason in this direction, as if in a desperate hope of preventing the sacrifice."-New York Mail and Express.

HOUSES ON "MADE" GROUND The Reason They Teem With Mala-

ria and Noxious Gases. Good gravel has so largely come into request that many suburban lands with that valuable substratum are quarried to a considerable depth to fore being sold on building leases. But it is essential to restore a level surface, as even the most speculative builder would besitate to run up "neat villa residences" in deep holes. The owner frequently gets over this difficulty by The clay hands at Chetwynds were allowing urban refuse to be shot into the excavation; in many cases he even exacts a small sum for every load tilted on his ground. The surface being thus leveled, a year or two are allowed for the soil to sink and become compact. Occasionally grass is sown to give a natural appearance to the spot.

All is now in readiness for the builder, who proceeds to lay the foundation for his "terraces." "avenues" and "gardens," which he subsequently advertises as "on gravel soil." So they are, but between their ground floors and the gravel lies a thick stratum of partially decomposed rubbish, teaming with malaria, and not for many years will the deposits cease to give off noxious gases.

But the tenant, coming from a different locality, knows nothing of the "making" process to which the plot has been subjected. When, therefore, ill health dogs his family, he puts it down to defective drainage or some other structural deficiency and spends money freely on remedial measures without the least benefit. All this misery might be prevented if it were legally prohibited to build human habitations on decomposed refuse until the soil had acquired a wholesome character.-London Globe.

How They Treated Washington.

As an example of the progress of medicine during the last century The Medical Record cites the case of Washington's last illness. He died of laryngeal diphtheria, and the treatment was, it would seem, for an old man sick with a disease, very exhausting to the vitality. It consisted in the abstrac-20 grains of calomel and 6 grains of tartar emetic and an injection, with external application of blister. And yet so strong was Washington's constitution that he survived this treatment for 24 hours.

A Cool Housemaid.

A rather curious method of burglar catching was resorted to by an ingenious maidservant recently in New York. As The Electrical Review tells the story, while in pursuit of her seemed as if the touch of a man's household duties the maid noticed a man's foot inside the clothes closet, and it blocked the road, which was She did not scream, neither did she jump at the door nor shut it with a bang. Instead she took a broom and began to sweep that corner of the room near the closet. Her approach was gradual, and the sweeping was done so naturally that it would not neighborhood an idea. He offered te have aroused the most suspicious burglar. At last the broom brushed the door plan was to pile the fodder from the gently, but hard enough to close it to the fraction of an inch. With five or six more gentle sweeps that closet door was shut and almost latched. which she at length succeeded in doing by gently pressing her arm against it.

As the telephone in her house was so near the closet that the burglar would be able to hear her if she called for assistance, she bethought herself of another plan. In the back yard some telephone linemen were at the time making repairs on a wire that runs to another house in the block She went out and spoke to them. They promptly tapped a wire, attached a testing instrument and called up one of the down town exchanges, which in turn got the house owner, who in his turn called up police headquarters. From there the call was sent to the police station nearest the house, and two policemen were sent around and got the man

Novel Use For His Fodder.

"I have heard of some strange and curious expedients that have been used to clear the tracks in cases of railroad wrecks." said a well known railroad official recently, "but the methods used on a small railroad not far from Baltimore a few years ago to clear the tracks and incidentally save a fine engine from serious damage were the most original I ever heard of.

"The wreck had been caused by ice forming on the rail from an overflowing tank near the trestle. The train und two engines. The first engine and the cars had run out on the trestle and dropped over. The rear engine was left standing half sidewise on the trestle, which was 30 feet high. It hand would cause it to topple over, only single tracked, and the wrecking car with its derrick could not be used. 'If we only had something soft to drop it on and then hoist it back,' said one official, 'we could manage all right.'

"This remark gave a farmer of the sell his big stock of corn fodder. The ground underneath the trestle to within a few feet of the track and then toppie the engine over. The plan worked well, and owing to the elasticity of the fodder the engine was not damaged in the least."-Baltimore Sun.

Some Childish Humor.

Here are some specimens of childish humor from the Chicago News:

"Oh. mamma," exclaimed 4-year-old Flossie as she observed the moon in its second quarter. "come and look at the moon. Half of it is pushed into the sky, and the other half is sticking out."

Tommy, aged 5, had been busy whittling and managed to raise a blister on his hand which caused a slight break in the skin. Running to his mother, he showed it to her and said, "Mamma, I guess I'm beginning to wear out."

"Did they sing any pretty songs at Sunday school?" asked a mother of her little 4-year-old daughter upon her re turn home. "Only one." replied the liftle miss. "It was something about Greenland's ice cream mountains."

Papa-Well, Willie, have you been ! good boy today? Small Willie-Did you ask mamma? "Why should I ask her? Don't you know whether you have been good or not?" "Yes, but mamma's idea of goodness differs from mine, and I don't want to go back on anything she says."

Weir Mitchell and Whitman. In Dr. Weir Mitchell's book a pleasant story or two is told of Walt Whit-man, the writer, to whom some would deny the name of poet, while others regard him as one of the greatest of all poets. One of the characters in the story of "Dr. North and His Friends" says that Whitman was eaten up by his own vanity, regarding everything he did as of such supreme value that he had lost all power of self criticism and could not tell good from bad or indifferent. Once he was asked if he thought Shakespeare as great a poet as himself. He replied that he had often able to come to a decision.

He went to a physician upon an occasion, thinking himself seriously out of health. When he learned that his ailment, whatever it was, could be treated best by living as much as posmedicine, he was leaving in all good humor when he bethought himself of the physician's fee. "How much will it be?" he inquired. "The debt was paid long ago," said the doctor, who knew and liked his writings. "It is you who are still the creditor." Whitman thanked him and went out. Another patient, a lady, had taken his place when he returned, put his two great hands on the table opposite his medical adviser-he had not stopped to "That, sir, I call poetry."

Weight by Inches.

"Forty and a half." sung out the cutter of a Chestnut street tailoring firm as he passed the tape across a customer's chest. Thirty-eight was registered when the measure girded the customer's waist, and then the cutter stepped back and sized up the patron's height as compared with that of the salesman who was recording the measurements.

"Your weight is 165 pounds," he said.

"One sixty-seven," spoke up the man who was being measured for a coat. "How did you guess it?"

"No guesswork about it. I simply compared your height with that of the salesman here, who is 5 feet 8 inches tall. You are about two inches taller, or, say, 5 feet 10 inches. With chest and waist measurements and a man's beight figured out I can come within a pound or two of his weight every time, as my close estimate of your avoirdupols proves. Of course there are exceptions, notably the man with the very slim waist and wide shoulders. who is invariably much lighter in build than his appearance and measurements indicate. In that case I drop about ten pounds from my figures and manage to come pretty near the mark."-Philadelphia Record.

IN REMEMBRANCE OF LINCOLN.

By Rev. T. De Witt Talmage.

Copyright 1901, The Christian Herald.

president how to conduct the war. We ing man I ever saw. He had a faraway look. He evidently, while standing under the fire of an address which was being made to him, saw the battle fields and hospitals and conflagrations and national bereavement. One of his great trials was that of being subjected to advice by people of all sorts who had no qualification for giving advice. When one of our party asked for his autograph, he cheerfully gave it, asking, "Is this all I can do for you?" At that time he was the most abused man in America. Today he is the most admired man in all our country's history, with the exception of Washington. My friend, the late Henry W. Grady, then the editor of the Atlanta Constitution, and a typical Southerner, startled the north with his appreciation of Abraham Lincoln. It was at a New England dinner at Delmonico's, New York, ten or fifteen years ago. I had in my remarks spoken of the typical American, and that he would appear 50 or 75 years from then, and that he would be a compound of many nationalities, that he would have all the best of their characteristics Mr. Grady following, said: "Mr. Talmage has spoken of the great American as coming 50 or 75 years from now. Gentlemen, I have to tell you that the typical American has come. He was Abraham Lincoln!" The effect was electric. That sentiment uttered by a Northen man would not have had such an effect, but it was uttered by a Southern man, whose father fought and died on the Southern side. The whole world now loves the memory of Abraham Lincoln. He was the impersonation of kindness. On my desk as I made this paragraph is a letter in his own handwriting. It was yesterday presented to us by a friend. It was written before the days of typewriting, and is in Mr. Lincoln's own penmanship. The Methodist conference assembled in Baltimore had passed resolution of encouragement and sent it to Mr. Lincoln, and this is his re-

"Gentlemen-In response to your address, allow me to attest the accuracy of its historical statements; in dorse the sentiment it expresses and sure promise it gives.

"Nobly sustained as the government has been by all the churches, I would utter nothing which might in the least appear invidious against any. Yet without this it may fairly be said that the Methodist Episcopal church, not less devoted than the rest, is, by its greater numbers, the most important of all. It is no fault in others that the Methodist church sends more soldiers to the field, more nurses to the hospital, and more prayers to heaven than any. God bless the Methodist church -bless all the churches, and blessed be God, who, in this our great trial, giveth us the churches.

"A. LINCOLN."

May 18, 1864. There is in the chirography of this letter a calmness, a confidence, and a clearness which give no suggestion of the horrors through which the country was then passing. Every comma, semicolon, and period is in the right place. Abraham Lincoln was a Presbyterian, yet in this letter he especially compliments another denomination, and asks for the divine blessings on all the denominations. There will probably never be another Abraham Lincoln, for the reason there will probably never again be a need for such a man. He was a great sufferer through his sympathies. General W. T. Sherman showed me, many years ago, in his home at St. Louis, a picture of a elry Co.

The first time we saw him, we fol- steamboat cabin in which President lowed into his room a committee who Lincoln, General Grant and himself had come to Washington to tell the sat during the darkest time of the civil war. The picture was nothing as a work of art, but General Sherman do not know who the committee was. kept it to bring to mind what was said The president was the saddest look- in that interview. He told me that President Lincoln exclaimed in a great outburst of grief: "I cannot stand it any longer, this bloodshed; how can we stop this war?" What a suggestive picture it was when one had explained to him what occurred in that steamboat cabin. Assassination always kills the wrong man, and a worse deed than the taking off of such a president cannot be imagined. Well may the nation celebrate the anniversary of the birthday of the most renowned man of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries, who once said of himself: "Of course, when I came of age I did not know much; still, somehow I could read, write and cipher to the rule of three, but that was all. I have not been to school since. The little advance I now have upon this store of education I have picked up from time to time under the pressure of necessity."

Henry W. Grady was right when he corrected me at the Delmonico dinner. and said: "The typical American has come, and he was Abraham Lincoln!"

PLENTY OF PROOF.

From People You Know-From East Liverpool Citizens.

The greatest skeptic can hardly fail to be convinced in the face of evidence like this. It is impossible to produce better proof of merit than the testimony of residents of East Liverpool of people who can be seen at any time. Read the following case

Mr. P. J. Green, veterinary surgeon, says: "When attending a sick horse belonging to Mr. G. H. Gardiner, of 168 Jackson street, he remarked to me that the horse seemed to be in pain. I replied that I was the sicker of the two, as I could at that time scarcely straighten up with my back from lameness, weakness and severe pains. He asked me what my symptons were and I explained to him that I had suffered for a number of years at times when nothing helped me, and it was agony to get around, but that I could not endure idleness. The secretions from the kidneys were very high colored and acidous; that I had spells of dizziness when I could see black specks floating before my eyes and felt generally broken up. He looked up and said he had the very thing I needed to cure me in his house -Doan's Kidney Pills. He went into the house and brought me eight pills. I took them with me and I used them two at a dose. The effect was astonishing, I felt it almost at once, and went to the W. & W. pharmacy and bought a box and took them. The encouragement held out to me by the first eight pills was not mythical, as by their continued use the improvement continued and I consider no expression of praise too strong for Doan's Kidney Pills, in short they are ne plus ultra."

Weir Mitchell and Whitman.

In Dr. Weir Mitchell's book a pleas ant story or two is told of Walt Whitman, the writer, to whom some would deny the name of poet, while others regard him as one of the greatest of all poets. One of the characters in the story of "Dr. North and His Friends" says that Whitman was eaten up by his own vanity, regarding everything he did as of such supreme value that he had lost all power of self criticism on all tickets including March 8. and could not tell good from bad or indifferent. Once he was asked if he thought Shakespeare as great a poet as himself. He replied that he had often able to come to a decision.

He went to a physician upon an occasion, thinking himself seriously out of health. When he learned that his ailment, whatever it was, could be treated best by living as much as possible out of doors without dosing with medicine, he was leaving in all good humor when he bethought himself of the physician's fee. "How much will it be?" he inquired. "The debt was paid long ago," said the doctor, who knew and liked his writings. "It is you who are still the creditor." Whitman thanked him and went out. ### SPEED THE DAY.

Yes, speed the day when direct rapid transit shall control between East Liverpool and Lisbon. Such a feature has become an absolute necessity. It frequently occurs that the morning east bound train is behind time on the only line of railroad communication, and connection is thus missed at Rochester, and the Lisbon bound passenger is left in the lurch. He must either go around by way of Alliance and Leetonia or drive across country, the latter course at times being next to an impossibility on account of the condition of the roads. Speed the coming of the cross-county electric line.

CIGARETTES.

Speaking with a prominent citizen and business man yesterday, he said: "I admire your defiance of the saloon and liquor traffic. They are abominable features and an outrage against civilization. Hit them, old man, square from the shoulder, and you'll lose nothing in the minds and hearts of honest Cap., why in the world don't you go hot after the devils in human form who are selling cigarettes to mere children, by day and by night, in East Liverpool? I know one unprincipled blackguard who is selling cigarettes to mere bits of boys who are just free from long dressses. Of course that is putting it a little bit strong, old man; but they really are but mere children. Say, I have children of my own, and I'd rather see one of my boys drink whisky or beer than indulge in smoking cigarettes, as the vile things set a youngster crazy and imbecile more speedily than does booze, and I'll make the fellow hump whom I catch furnishing my youngsters with cigarettes, either by sale or as a free gift." The state officials should pay East Liverpool a quiet liters behind prison bars, playing check- city. ers with their nose.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY | And Wanted to Know When He Proposed to Lead Her to the Altar.

THREATENS BREACH OF PROMISE

Yesterday the employes of the clay shops at the Klondike pottery were treated to an exhibition that was not down on the bills.

The young woman evidently knew the way in, for she did not hesitate until she had reached the shop in which the object of her search was employed. She walked up to Tom Davis, and without wasting time, demanded to know when he proposed to marry her.

The fellow was almost paralyzed, and when he recovered inquired when a clear sky and tear a ship to pieces, the match had been made, and when but some floating wreckage is sure to the ceremony was to be performed, at tell the tale. There has been no unusual occurrence in the pressing shop, although one of the constables of the city visited the pottery today. He evidently had some other mission, as the presser was not molested.

"UNDER THE SUN."

The men who have gone before us Have sung the songs we sing, The words of our clamorous chorus, They were heard of the ancient king.

The chords of the lyre that thrill us, They were struck in the years gone by, And the arrows of death that kill us Are found where our fathers lie.

The vanity sung of the preacher Is vanity still today; The moan of the stricken creature Has rung in the woods alway.

But the songs are worth resinging, With the change of no single note, And the spoken words are ringing As they rang in the years remote.

There is no new road to follow, love, Nor need there ever be. For the old, with its hill and hollow, love, Is enough for you and me. -Charles R. Bacon in Century.

WHATMODERNSAILORSFEAR

Not Winds and Seas, but an Explosion Which Scuttles the Ship.

"Boiler explosions are the terror of the seafaring man," said an old time deep water captain. "Such a thing is bad enough on dry land, but imagine a catastrophe of that kind at sea. In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred it means the absolute wiping out of the craft itself and every soul on board.

"The average landsman would be greatly shocked in looking over the maritime records to see how many vessels disappear each year and leave absolutely no clew to their fate. They run well up to the hundred mark, and such a mystery is not to be explained away by storms. A Chinese typhoon may swoop down like lightning out of contrary, will blow a hole as big as a railroad tunnel right through the center of the hull, and the stricken vessel simply goes down like a shot. There is no time to unfasten a boat from the davits or cut loose a spar.

"In the opinion of seamen, that is the story of at least 90 per cent of the ships that leave port and are never heard of again. Luckily the modern system of marine boiler inspection is extremely strict and thorough, but it is impossible to absolutely prevent carelessness and fraud, and often By this time all the shopmates had enough, no doubt, the fault lies with

"There is an old story of a drunken Scotchman who mistook the thermometer for the steam gage and 'cussed out' the stokers because he couldn't get the pressure above 80. That yarn will hardly hold water, but I've seen cases almost as bad. I am glad to say, however, that during the past 10 years the number of vessels which 'mys-The presser was unable to recover teriously disappear.' Once, after rendering "Woodman, Spare That Tree," a gentleman rose in the gallery and asked, "Was the tree spared?" On being answered in the affirmative he, with a sigh of heartfelt relief, exclaimed, "Thank God for that!'

After singing the song of "The Dog Carlo," who jumped off an Atlantic liner and saved a child's life, Russell was gravely waited upon by a couple of Yorkshire miners, who begged him for a pup.

One of Russell's songs, of which the words were changed in accordance with the altered conditions, is our national anthem, "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean."-Argonaut.

Wanted to Go to One of His Weddings.

The Rev. Dr. -, a prominent clergyman, relates with much gusto the following story about himself. His present wife, by the way, is not the wife of his youth nor yet of his early manhood, but the lady of his third choice, and as a consequence the doctor's set of olive branches spring from divers maternal ancestry.

"Such a condition of affairs," said the doctor, "might at times become embarrassing except for the thorough amiability of all concerned. I confess,

There is an F street real estate man whose pretty home is in one of the pleasantest streets in the older part of town. He is just an ordinary man, with no particular sympathy for the married 15 years, and his wife is one of those women who fairly revel in all sorts of painful imaginings and frightful forebodings. She always makes her will when she starts on a journey. and she never fails to forgive all her enemies before she trusts herself behind any kind of a horse. There has not been a night in all the 15 years of her married life that she hasn't either smelled smoke or heard burglars. Last week, in the middle of one night, the husband felt the familiar pinch which for 15 years has calloused his arm. He heard the familiar voice say the same old words:

"Oh, Charles! Do get up! I smell smoke!"

As usual, for after 15 years of that sort of thing even an ordinary man learns not to argue with a woman, he climbed obediently out of bed and went to the window. The street below was full of people, and a fire engine was puffing away at the corner.

The men who have gone before us Have sung the songs we sing. The words of our clamorous chorus, They were heard of the ancient king.

Timid Woman, Callous Brute.

There is an F street real estate man whose pretty home is in one of the pleasantest streets in the older part of town. He is just an ordinary man, with no particular sympathy for the fears of nervous women; he has been married 15 years, and his wife is one of those women who fairly revel in all sorts of painful imaginings and frightful forebodings. She always makes her will when she starts on a journey, and she never fails to forgive all her enemies before she trusts herself behind any kind of a horse. There has not been a night in all the 15 years of her married life that she hasn't either smelled smoke or heard burglars. Last week, in the middle of one night, the husband felt the familiar pinch which for 15 years has calloused his arm. He heard the familiar voice say the same old words:

"Oh, Charles! Do get up! I smell smoke!"

As usual, for after 15 years of that sort of thing even an ordinary man learns not to argue with a woman, he climbed obediently out of bed and went to the window. The street below was full of people, and a fire engine was puffing away at the corner.

"Oh, Charles!" called the wife. "Is the house on fire?" Fifteen years have made Charles feelings as callous as his arm. "Yes," said he brutally; "thank goodness the house is on fire at last. Now perhaps you'll stop worrying."-Wasb-

SAM DAWSON GAVE IN AT LAST

A hearing in the case against Sam Dawson, Sherman "Moses" Call and William Call was held at 3:30 yesterday afternoon, and resulted in the trio being bound over to court.

The charge against the boys was harceny in stealing a 10-gallon keg of sherry wine valued at $13 50, the theft occurring last Thursday night, and from the attitude of the culprits when arraigned, they proposed to aght all the way through, as all pleaded not guilty.

Andrew Call was the first witness called, and although he had evidently had no part in the robbery, he knew a great deal more than he was willing to tell. He had remained at home on the night of the robbery, but his two brothers had left at 6:30 and did not return until 9. He saw the three on Friday morning and they had a quantity of sherry in two jugs. They gave him a half pint of the stuff and told him they would get more when that was gone. They told him they had a lot of it up the track somewhere, but he didn't ask any questions. On Saturday they brought the keg and a bucket down the beach, where he runs a ferry, or did until the ice stopped his business.

James Brighouse testiged as follows: "I saw Sam and Bill coming down the railroad on Saturday afternoon and they were both full. Sam gave me a half pint of wine. He said he wasn't allowed to tell where he got it, but said for me to take and drink it. I drank all the half pint, and Sam said if any one asked me about the wine to say I found it."

The mayor asked Andrew Call a few more questions respecting the half plaintiffs does not cover this property pint, and he testified that it was pretty good stuff.

Sam was here examined by Mayor Davidson, but nothing could be made from him, as his countenance is as expressionless as a piece of stone. He would make a statement, then deny it in the next breath, so his honor gave up in despair.

Detective Nick Schiffler asked Andrew a few questions about an interview he had in a little office on the railroad with six of the officers, but Andy's memory was not good, and! very little satisfaction was secured

At the conclusion of the hearing Mayor Davidson bound the trio, Sam-Bill and Mose, over to court in the sum of $50 each, and Andy will be held as a witness.

New York, Feb. 19 .- The Times was expected today to say in part:

"One important step has been taken incident to the formation of the great steel combination. That colossai undertaking proposes more than merely the consolidation of leading iron and steel making plants. That is most important and by far the biggest thing in view, but the plans under way are comprehensive enough to include the acquirement of control of certain coal and iron railways operating in what will be the iron and steel territory. This first reported accomplishment appears in the purchase of control of the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling railroad. Final details in this transaction were completed on Saturday and yesterday (Monday) at the banking offices of Blair & Co. and J. P. Morgan & Co.

"In the syndicate which now acquires the property Federal Steel interests are prominent. The most important members of this syndicate are Norman E. Ream and H. H. Porter, of Chicago, and Anson R. Flower and J. P. Morgan."

Pittsburg, Feb. 19.-It was announced vesterday in authentic Pittsburg sources that the negotiations for the absorption of not only the control but the minority of the Carnegie Steel company by the Morgan interests had been concluded, that the objections of stockholders of the Moore companies to the valuations placed row, of the First volunteer infantry, upon them had been overcome by heavy purchases of preferred stock by insiders, that only a necessary majority of the various capitals would be supervisor. It was stated positively by those who know and who are to be relied This Government Will Not Allow Particiupon that no objection will be made by the minority Carnegie interests, as they have been guaranteed satisfactory treatment at the hands of the Morgan syndicate. It was said that before Mr. Carnegle signed the option to his control he stipulated that all of his young partners should be satisfied before the sale should be consummated.

The morgan interests offered $1,500 f preferred stock in the new company to be formed, with an equal each $1,000 share of the Carnegie company. This proposition was submitted to the Carnegie stockholders of the "Carnegie faction" last Monday by President C. M. Schwab, and it was stated by an official that no dissent was made. It is now understood that H. C. Frick and Henry Phipps, Ir., acting for the old 25 per cent minority, came to an agreement the terms to the other stockholders are satisfactory to them. It was stated positively last night that the Frick minority was satisfied and that from undertaking this campaign. the deal so far as the Carnegie company is concerned has been closed.

FEDERAL PEOPLE IN MAJORITY

The Cornegie Sale Said to He Practically Accompilated - Minority Said to Be Satisfied-Morgan Objected to Water In Stocks of Some Other Concerns.

New York, Feb. 19.-The Times was expected today to say in part:

"One important step has been taken incident to the formation of the great steel combination. That colossai undertaking proposes more than merely the consolidation of leading iron and steel making plants. That is most important and by far the biggest way are comprehensive enough to incertain coal and iron railways operat. ing in what will be the iron and steel territory. This first reported accom-Wheeling railroad. Final details in this transaction were completed on Saturday and yesterday (Monday) at the banking offices of Blair & Co. and J. P. Morgan & Co.

Pittsburg, Feb. 19.-It was announced yesterday in authentic Pittsbut the minority of the Carnegie Steel company by the Morgan Interests had been concluded, that the objections of stockholders of the Moore by insiders, that only a necessary mabe acquired and that the properties fiscal will be natives. would be absorbed on a basis of "no water."

It was stated positively by those who know and who are to be relied upon that no objection will be made by the minority Carnegie interests, as they have been guaranteed satisfactory treatment at the hands of the Morgan syndicate. It was said that before Mr. Carnegle signed the option to his control he stipulated that all of his young partners should be satisfied before the sale should be

The morgan interests offered $1,500 of preferred stock in the new company to be formed, with an equal amount of common as a bonus, for each $1,000 share of the Carnegie company. This proposition was submitted to the Carnegie stockholders of the "Carnegie faction" last Monday by President C. M. Schwab, and It was stated by an official that no any participation in hostile military dissent was made. It is now understood that H. C. Frick and Henry Phipps. Jr., acting for the old 25 per cent minority, came to an agreement in New York on Saturday and that the terms to the other stockholders are natiofactory to them. It was stated positively last night that the Frick minority was satisfied and that the deal so far as the Carnegie company is concerned has been closed.

Mx-Judge James H. Reed, principal compact, for the Carnegie company. was summoned to New York on Friday, and it was stated yesterday that contemplating an expedition into the his presence there was to close the deal for the Carnegie company and prepare and oversee the legal papers. Mr. Frick and Mr. Schwab did not return to Pittsburg and other stockholders here expect to leave tomorrow to participate in what is believed to be a final conference. It is believed in Pittsburg that the deal will be ratified in New York tomorrow or Thursday and that all will be ready for announcement before the end of

The Moore companies were said to have been responsible for the delay that is known to have existed in the negotiations. One interested in the transaction said yesterday that Mr. Morgan insisted that the stock of the Moore companies as well as all others should be taken in with the un-buying of preferred stock was necessary on the part of the insiders to gain absolute control. This was done yesterday and the heavy sales of common stock were made by those having knowledge of the plan on the general assumption corectly taken that the common shares would depreciate on receipt of the news by the

CHAFFEE TO BE TOLD NO.

This Government Will Not Allow Participation In Proposed Expedition.

Washington, Feb. 19.-The United States government is tacing a serious crisis in China, owing to the announcement of the purpose of Field Marshal Count Waldersee to begin another offensive campaign. General Chaffee has been invited to join in the expedition, which is to be mobilized on a larger scale than anything attempted in China since the original march to Pekin. The general informed the war department and the officials of the state department have been advised of the situation.

Our government not having changed its policy, cannot do otherwise than cause General Chaffee to refrain from movements, so long as the present peaceful conditions continue, but another very serious point under consideration is not whether Chaffee shall join the German movement, but whether it is not the duty of our government to exercise all proper efforts to dissuade the German government Mayor of Minneapolis Orders Against from undertaking this campaign.

London, Feb. 19 .-- The under secretary of state for foreign affairs, replying to a question in the house of commons, said that so far as the government was aware no power was interior of China. If so the British commanders would require fresh instructions.

Mrs. Nation refused to give the bond and said she would go to jail. She is now detained in the hospital room of the county jail, where she will probably remain for some time.

In the city court arguments were given in the case brought against losses being among those stocks Mrs. Nation by the proprietors of the wrecked "Senate" saloon. Judge Mc-Cabe said he would take the matter under advisement until Thursday morning.

It is not likely that Mrs. Nation will be able to give bond, because she declares that she will resume her smashing crusade against the "joints" immediately upon her release. Her friends have been advised that Judge Hazen will make her release conditional upon the promise that she be sent to her home at Medicine Lodge. Judge Hazen last night placed Cal. McDonald, Mrs. Rose Crist and Miss Medeline Southard under peace bonds. McDonald's bond is $1,000, and the others are $500 each. The judge delivered a scathing address to the three Nation lieutenants. He expressed the opinion that Mrs. Nation is insane, and said those persons who encourage her methods of reform ought to be ashamed of themselves.

Prizetishts.

Minneapolis, Feb. 19.-Mayor Ames issued orders to the captain of police to stop and prevent any glove contests in this city last mgnt, and to see that no contests with gloves or any sparring match shall take place in future.

He also ordered the prevention of all athletic exhibitions where life and limb are placed in jeopardy, and explains that under this category he includes football, baseball, handball and similar sporting events. The mayor is highly indignant over the governor's interference, and promises to make it ridiculous.

The coursel on the other side, he said, had telegraphed him that he joined in the application, but could not be ready for argument before March 6 next. The court told Mr. Elkin to file his motion and it would be considered.

DUBIOUS MONEY OUTLOOK.

It Had Some Effect on the Stock Market, Monday-Movements of

New York, Feb. 19.-Monday was one of active speculative liquidation in the stock market. The bears took a very active part in the day's proby manipulation for the decline, offering prices down freely and boldly. Besides the extraordinary movement strength shown by the new Toledo, gamated Copper and Consolidated At Herrington a mass meeting Gas. There was evidence of continshowed some sympathy at one time. Topeka, Kan., Feb. 19.-Mrs. Na. There was some support at intervals net loss only 1%.

Hoop preferred advanced at one action in the market. National Tube led the decline in the common stocks of the steel companies, breaking 7 The losses of the others were partly recovered, but at one time Colorado Fuel was down 41/4. National Steel and Tennessee Coal 4. Federal Steel 374, American Hoop 31/2, Steel and Wire 314, and Tin Plate 25%. In the general list the reaction ran all the way from 1 to 31/2 points, the wider which have been most manipulated for an advance.

It was clear enough that the dubious outlook for the money market was the impelling cause of the liquidation, and not any serious doubt yet entertained over general conditions. In fact, the liquidation did not appear to be voluntary, but was forced by the uncovering of stop-loss orders on the decline which the bears were able to effect. With the wiping out of margins stocks were thrown on the market to protect brokers and commission houses which were carrying them for customers.

Very heavy buying of Southern Pacific 4s was the feature of the railroad bond market. The tendency elsewhere was generally reactionary. Total sales, par value, $5,525,000.

United States old 4s advanced 1/4 per cent on the last call.

NEW SCHOOL APPROPRIATION SUIT.

Another Action Brought-Date Set For Hearing of One Suit.

Harrisburg, Feb. 19.-H. Homer Mater, of this city, attorney for the school board of Evansville, Bradford county, filed a petition in the Dauphin county court for a writ of mandamus on State Treasurer Barnett and Superintendent of Public Instruction Schaeffer, to compel them to pay the district its share of the school appropriations for the current fiscal year on the basis of $5,500,000. Judge Weiss fixed March 4 for argument.

A continuance was granted until Feb. 28 in the mandamus suits brought by Green Lane borough and Ambler Independent school district, of Montgomery county, owing to the absence of Colonel Barnett, who was traveling in the south.

POSTOFFCE BILL CONSIDERED.

Military Academy Appropriation Page Also Up In Senate.

Washington, Feb. 19 .- Nearly the whole of the session of the senate was devoted to consideration of the postoffice appropriation bill. So far as committee amendments to the measure are concerned, the bill practically was completed, although the amendment appropriating $500,000 for an extension of the pneumatic tube service remains undisposed of. A point of order was made against it but on the appeal of Mr. Mason, of Illinois, the entire question was passed over until today.

Mr. Pettus, of Alabama, delivered a speech in opposition to the ship subsidy bill. The quaint humor with which the address was replete and his unique arraignment of Democrata especially who supported the measure attracted unusual attention.

Just before adjournment the conference report on the military academy appropriation bill was laid before the senate. Mr. Daniel, of Virginia, made a vigorous attack upon the provision which debars a cadet convicted of hazing from ever holding a commission in the army, navy or marine corps. The report is still pending.

DISCRIMINATION

Gage Says Russia's Charge Don't Hold Good.

INDIRECTLY PAYS SUGAR BOUNTY.

lands, Etc.

Washington, Feb. 19.-Secretary Gage received a number of inquiries in regard to his recent action as to Russian sugars, and he seut answers substantially as follows:

mst., relative to countervailing duty on Russian sugars, I have to inform you that, after careful consideration of the effects of the Russian law and regulations upon the price of that commodity for home consumption and the price for exportation, as exemplified in reports from our consuhar officers in Russia, this department has arrived at the conclusion that Russia indirectly pays or bestows a bounty on the export of sugars within the meaning of section 5 of the act of July 24, 1897, and consequently that it was my duty under the law to proclaim the net amounts of such bounties for the assessment of additional duties, which was done by departments circular No. 10, of Feb. 14. 1901.

"It is to be regretted that the Russian minister of finance should have considered this action in the light of a discrimination on our part against the Russian commerce, as stated in our recent daily press, and have withdrawn from our imports into Russia the privileges of the conventional tariff of that country, to which the United States is entitled under 'the most favored nation clause' in our treaty of commerce and navigation with Russia of 1832.

"The allegation of discrimination appears to be unfounded in view of the fact that sugars coming from other bounty paying countries, such as France, Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands, etc., are subjected to additional duties under said section 5, and that, unless the above stated conclusion of this department is reversed by a competent tribunal, the exemption of Russian sugars from additional duty would rightly be regarded by the other bounty paying countries as a discrimination against them and last year will be renewed, but nothin favor of Russia.

"It is hoped that upon proper presertation of the matter to the Russian government by our department of state the reputed order of the Russian minister of finance will be rewoked."

Extreme cases of disease test the real value of a medicine. Many "tonic" and "stimulant" preparations, which have no real medicinal value, seem to brace up the users when they are feeling "played out." Any stimulant will do this whether bought at the liquor store or drug store. The true test of a medicine is when life itself is staked on its remedial power. In hundreds of such cases Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been the means of saving life when even the "family doctor" had pronounced sentence of death.

"I had been a great sufferer for several years, and my family doctor said I would not be a living man in two years, but, thank God, I am still living," writes Mr. George W. Trustow, of Lipscomb. Augusta Co., Va. "Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is what saved my life. I had heart trouble so bad that I could not lie on my left side without a great deal of pain. I was nearly past work when I commenced your medicine, but I can do about as much work now as any man. I cannot say too much for the benefit I have received." I have received."

Many diseases, named for the organs affected, as "heart disease," "lung disease," "liver complaint," etc., are perfectly cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which cures through the stomach diseases which originate in the stomach.

Worth the Difference.

In S. L. Powers' story at the Middlesex Bar association dinner the lawyer tried the case for the complainant. Sue sued a middle aged gentleman for breach of promise. He married another girl. The jury retired, and the defendant also went his way. The jury jury found for the plaintiff in $800 damages.

The lawyer met the middle aged gentleman a few minutes later in the lobby of an adjacent hotel.

"Squire," said the latter, "how did the jury decide?"

"Against you," was the answer. "I didn't think they would do that," said the middle aged gentleman musingly "What's the damages?"

"That ain't so bad!" he exclaimed, on being told. "Squire, there's that much difference between the two women."-Boston Herald.

Gage Says Russia's Charge Don't Hold Good.

INDIRECTLY PAYS SUGAR BOUNTY.

For This Reason Her Sugars Come Under the Same Section as Do Those of France, Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands, Etc.

Washington, Feb. 19.-Secretary Gage received a number of inquiries in regard to his recent action as to Russian sugars, and he seut answers substantially as follows:

inst., relative to countervailing duty on Russian sugars, I have to inform you that, after careful consideration of the effects of the Russian law and regulations upon the price of that commodity for home consumption and the price for exportation, as exemplified in reports from our consuhar officers in Russia, this department has arrived at the conclusion that Russia indirectly pays or bestows a bounty on the export of sugars withto the meaning of section 5 of the act of July 24, 1897, and consequently that it was my duty under the law to proclaim the net amounts of such bounties for the assessment of additional duties, which was done by departments circular No. 10, of Feb. 14.

"It is to be regretted that the Russian minister of finance should have considered this action in the light of a discrimination on our part against the Russian commerce, as stated in our recent daily press, and have withdrawn from our imports into Russia the privileges of the conventional tariff of that country, to which the United States is entitled under 'the most favored nation clause' in our treaty of commerce and navigation with Russia of 1832.

"The allegation of discrimination appears to be unfounded in view of the fact that sugars coming from other bounty paying countries, such as France, Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands, etc., are subjected to additional duties under said section 5, and that, unless the above stated conclusion of this department is reversed by a competent tribunal, the exemption of Russian sugars from additional duty would rightly be regarded by the other bounty paying countries in favor of Russia.

"It is hoped that upon proper presertation of the matter to the Russian government by our department of state the reputed order of the Rusminister voked."

ST. LOUIS FAIR BILL PASSED.

Cannon Figured Appropriation at Over 6894,000,000, Exclusive of Makl. g rund.

Washington, Feb. 19.-The bill to authorize the holding of the international exposition in celebration of the centennial anniversary of the Louisiana purchase at St. Louis in 1903 and appropriating $5,000,000 therefor passed the house under suspension of the rules by a vote of 191 to 41. The opposition was hopelessly in the minority and the struggle over the bill was brief. The question of closing the exposition on Sunday was not mentioned during the debate. The bill to define the word "conspiracy" in the Sherman Lati-trust law to applicable to labor organizations was defeated by almost a two-thirds vote on account of two amendments which on the Potomac river, near Harpers the judiciary committee placed upon Ferry, Edward Cox and William the labor organizations.

The sundry civil bill was under consideration late in the day and Mr. Cannon, chairman of the appropriations committee, took occasion to make a detailed statement of the appropriations for the present congress. He was led to do this, he said, by many criticisms of the reckless ex travagance of this congress. The situation, he said, was quite bad enough without exaggerating it. He figured that the appropriations would total $694,118,595, exclusive of the sinking fund requirement of $53,000,000. against $657,150,862 for the current year. In the course of his remarks he fired some hot shots at the minor ity, accusing them of prating of econbands of himself and others when they were trying to keep appropriations down.

Our Government Merely Waits.

Washington, Feb. 19.-It is said at the state department that there is absolutely no new feature in the Danish West Indian matter. Our government is absolutely quiescent, and waiting until the Danish government has made up its mind as to what it wishes to do toward passing ownership of the islands. It is presumed that in due course the overtures of as a discrimination against them and last year will be renewed, but nothing has been done lately.

K. 5th I., Eugene R. Lyons. that it was my duty under the law to proclaim the net amounts of such bounties for the assessment of additional duties, which was done by departments circular No. 10, of Feb. 14.

"It is to be regretted that the Russian minister of finance should have considered this action in the light of a discrimination on our part against the Russian commerce, as stated in our recent daily press, and have withdrawn from our imports into Russia the privileges of the conventional tariff of that country, to which the United States is entitled under 'the most favored nation clause' in our treaty of commerce and navigation with Russia of 1832.

"The allegation of discrimination appears to be unfounded in view of the fact that sugars coming from other bounty paying countries, such as France, Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands, etc., are subjected to additional duties under said section 5, and that, unless the above stated conclusion of this department is reversed by a competent tribunal, the exemption of Russian sugars from additional duty would rightly be regarded by the other bounty paying countries as a discrimination against them and in favor of Russia.

"It is hoped that upon proper presertation of the matter to the Russian government by our department of state the reputed order of the Russian minister of finance will be re-

ST. LOUIS FAIR BILL PASSED.

Cannon Figured Appropriation at Over

$694,000,000, Exclusive of Stant. g rund. Washington, Feb. 19.-The bill to authorize the holding of the interna tional exposition in celebration of the centennial anniversary of the Louisiana purchase at St. Louis in 1903 and passed the house under suspension of the rules by a vote of 191 to 41. The opposition was hopelessly in the minority and the struggle over the bill was brief. The question of closing the exposition on Sunday was not Mingo Junction. mentioned during the debate. The bill to define the word "conspiracy" in the Sherman Lati-trust law to applicable to labor organizations was railroad. defeated by almost a two-thirds vote the labor organizations. The sundry civil bill was under consideration late in the day and Mr. Cannon, chairman of the appropriamake a detailed statement of the appropriations for the present congress. He was led to do this, he said, by many criticisms of the reckless ex travagance of this congress. The situation, he said, was quite bad enough without exaggerating it. He figured that the appropriations would total $694,118,595, exclusive of the sinking fund requirement of $53,000,000, against $657,150,862 for the current year. In the course of his remarks he fired some hot shots at the minor

Our Government Merely Waits.

Washington, Feb. 19.-It is said at the state department that there is absolutely no new feature in the Danish West Indian matter. Our government is absolutely quiescent, and waiting until the Danish government has made up its mind as to what it wishes to do toward passing ownership of the islands. It is presumed that in due course the overtures of last year will be renewed, but nothing has been done lately.

Extreme cases of disease test the real value of a medicine. Many "tonic" and "stimulant" preparations, which have no real medicinal value, seem to brace up the users when they are feeling "played out." Any stimulant will do this whether bought at the liquor store or drug store. The true test of a med-icine is when life itself is staked on its remedial power. In hundreds of such cases Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been the means of saving life when even the "family doctor" had pronounced sentence of death.

"I had been a great sufferer for several years, and my family doctor said I would not be a living man in two years, but, thank God, I am still living," writes Mr. George W. Trustow, of Lipscomb. Augusta Co., Va. "Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is what saved my life. I had heart trouble so bad that I could not lie on my left side without a great deal of pain. I was left side without a great deal of pain. I was nearly past work when I commenced your med-icine, but I can do about as much work now as any man. I cannot say too much for the benefit I have received."

The Smothering Scene.

As to stage appointments, there were no plush or velvet curtains or couches draped with satin in early days. The furniture was as unpretentious as the costumes. Indeed on one occasion when a lady was playing Desdemona to her husband's Othello a disastrous and at the same time ludicrous effect, though of course unrehearsed, had been imminent through the lack of even a nail or two to make an old stool

It was the smothering scene, and the souch was made up of two chairs and a rickety stool covered, or course, with the simplest draperies-a red merino curtain trimmed with yellow worsted fringe. Imagine a Desdemona endeavoring to recline gracefully, all the while feeling portions of her couch sliding from under her. This is how the scene was played out: Desdemona-Kill me tomorrow; let me live tonight. (I'm falling, dear!)

Othello-Nay, if you strive- (Keep quite still.) Desdemona-But half an hour. (Oh, hold me!) Othello-Being done, there is no pause. (1'11 push the stool under.)

Desdemona -- But while I say a prayer. (Do be quick, Robert, it is slipping.)

Which, indeed, it was, for the bed collapsed, and Desdemona's body lay upon the floor, her head upon the sole chair, which stuck to its post faithfully.-Gentleman's Magazine.

Bees go out all day gathering honey and work at night in the bive, building their combs as perfectly as if an electric light shone there all the time. Why do they prefer to work in the dark? is often asked. Every one knows that honey is a liquid with no solld sugar in it. After standing it gradually assumes a crystalline appearance or granulates and ultimately becomes a solid mass.

Why Bees Work In Darkness.

Honey has been experimentally inclosed in well corked flasks, some of which were kept in perfect darkness, while the others were exposed to the light. The result was that the portion exposed to the light soon crystallized, while that kept in the dark remained unchanged.

Hence we see why the bees are so careful to obscure the glass windows which are placed in their hives. The existence of the young depends on the liquidity of the saccharine food presented to them, and if light were allowed access to this it would in all probability prove fatal to the inmates of the hive .- Weekly Bouquet.

The Pie Enters.

Pie in New England is served in many queer ways, especially the king of all pies, the royal mince. Not long ago there appeared a sign in the station of staid, crooked and correct Boston-a sign bearing the strange device, "Hot Mince Pie and Ice Cream."

This is a mild combination compared with one that was served in this city at a midnight supper. A Welsh rabbit was being made, and there were some who did not care to eat it on crackers; no toast in the house, for it was the fire's evening out. A mince pie was found lurking in the ice chest and pressed into service. The rabbit was spread over the pie, and both vanished in a short time. Those who ate are still afraid in the dark, for they can imagine that the same things are coming for them again as came during their dreams of that wild, weird night.

A local minister tells a pie story on himself that is a "corker." He is a delicate man, and his wife was down on pie for him and vetoed it for family use. Once he went to a convention in Pittsfield, and a dinner was served at which there were seven kinds of pie. The minister took a "little of each, please," and never enjoyed himself so much in his life.-Baltimore

The Smothering Scene.

As to stage appointments, there were no plush or velvet curtains or couches draped with satin in early days. The furniture was as unpretentious as the costumes. Othello-Nay, if you strive- (Keep quite still.) Desdemona-But half an hour. (Oh, hold me!) Othello-Being done, there is no pause. (I'll push the stool under.)

Would Like Some.

"What do you find in that stupid old paper to keep you so busy?" petulantly asked Mrs. Youngcouple.

"I was just looking at the money market." he answered.

"Oh, do they have a money market? Are there ever any bargains?"-Indianapolis Press.

Both Were Surprised.

The third time I changed cars at the Hornellsville Union railroad station and lunched at the little grillroom just up the street the jolly little proprietor recognized me as a regular patron and did his best to entertain me while my special pot of coffee was coming to a boil.

"Notice that fellow who just went out?" he asked, chuckling contentedly to himself.

I hadn't noticed particularly, but I knew it would be disconcerting to admit, so I nodded encouragingly, says a writer in the New York Herald.

"Well," be continued, "that's Jim Smith - Long Jim Smith they call him-conductor of the Erie, and, say, he's laying for me: Greatest practical joker you ever saw. Always getting rigs on me, and I never could get back on him until last week, and then I was about as much surprised as he was.

"I was coming down the street and saw a crowd gathered around some Salvation Army singers. Long Jim was away on the edge of the crowd, standing on his tiptoes so he could see over the heads of the rest. He had his back to me, and, sticking out from under his arm, was a big bag of lemons. I saw my chance, and I sneaked quietly behind him, hauled off and gave that bag of lemons an awful swipe with my cane."

Here the little man went off into an uncontrollable fit of laughter over the remembrance.

He laughed till his sides shook and tears ran down his face. I waited till he had quieted down. "Well?" I queried. "Scattered the lemons all about, I suppose?"

"Scattered! Ho, ho. ho! He! Hi. hi, hi! He! Hum! Well, I should say so. But they wasn't lemons; they was eggs."

The Pie Enters.

Pie in New England is served in many queer ways, especially the king of all pies, the royal mince. Not long ago there appeared a sign in the station of staid, crooked and correct Boston-a sign bearing the strange device, "Hot Mince Pie and Ice Cream."

This is a mild combination compared with one that was served in this city at a midnight supper. A Welsh rabbit was being made, and there were some who did not care to eat it on crackers; no toast in the house, for it was the fire's evening out. A mince pie was found lurking in the ice chest and pressed into service. The rabbit was spread over the pie, and both vanished in a short time. Those who ate are still afraid in the dark, for they can imagine that the same things are coming for them again as came during their dreams of that wild, weird night.

A local minister tells a pie story on himself that is a "corker." He is a delicate man, and his wife was down on pie for him and vetoed it for family use. Once he went to a convention in Pittsfield, and a dinner was served at which there were seven kinds of pie. The minister took a "little of each, please," and never enjoyed himself so much in his life.-Baltimore American.

Why Bees Work In Darkness.

Bees go out all day gathering honey and work at night in the bive, building their combs as perfectly as if an electric light shone there all the time. Why do they prefer to work in the dark? is often asked. Every one knows that honey is a liquid with no solid sugar in it. After standing it gradually assumes a crystalline appearance or granulates and ultimately becomes a solid mass.

Honey has been experimentally inclosed in well corked flasks, some of which were kept in perfect darkness, while the others were exposed to the light. The result was that the portion exposed to the light soon crystallized, while that kept in the dark remained unchanged.

Hence we see why the bees are so careful to obscure the glass windows which are placed in their bives. The existence of the young depends on the liquidity of the saccharine food presented to them, and if light were allowed access to this it would in all probability prove fatal to the inmates of the hive.-Weekly Bouquet.

LOCAL TURNERS WANT SOMETHING

They Will Make a Decided Effort to Land the Pittsburg Turnbisick Turnfest

BE HELD IN JUNE

Large Number of Societies Are Included In the District and Several Hundred

VISITORS WILL COME TO CITY

The local turner society have determined to make a strong bid for the next meeting of the Pittsburg Turnbisick turnfest.

At a meeting held recently it was decided to go into the matter for all it is worth, and with that resolve uppermost have started the boom. The meeting will be held in June, 1902, and will last for a week, bringing more people to town than upon any occasion in many years. This district includes the societies in Pittsburg, Allegheny, Altoona, Homestead, Latrobe, Beaver Falls, McKeesport, Rochester. New Castle, Steubenville, Wheeling, Birmingham, Southside (Pittsburg) Carnegie, and in fact all the organizations in Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio, 21 in all.

The local society is very strong at present, and with the influence at its command it is confidently expected they will be able to land the coveted prize.

It will not be known until some time early in April whether or not the local turnfest will win out, but whoever beats East Liverpool will know they were in the competition.

Prof. Eger, who has had charge of the class at this place for the past two weeks, is meeting with good success, and is doing a great deal of work that had been neglected for stome

Another matter that was attended to at the last meeting was the abolishing of dances by the local society. There will be no more of these affiairs held by them.

On the night of February 11 Faulk's mill was entered and two barrels of flour were stolen. As soon as the theft was discovered the authorities were notified and started at once on the case. While the investigations in the sherry matter were in progress Chief Thompson and his men found traces of the flour about the Louis Call shanty boat, and from then until yesterday quantities of the flour have been found at various places until the authorities have gotten together about 16 sacks. The stolen property is now at city hall.

Bill and Moses Call were brought in this morning and when the mayor was through reading the charge Bill was so excited that he became confused and said: "Well, we didn't break the door." He recovered himself in an instant and they both pleaded not guilty.

MIGHT AS WELL BE REPEALED

The ordinance to regulate the erection of buildings in this city is practically a dead letter and might as well be erased from the ordinance books for all the attention that is paid to it.

Every person knows that a great deal of building was done in the city last year, but few permits were taken out.

The ordinance on the subject is as follows:

"No person or persons shall erect or place any building, or part of any building; or any addition to any building within the corporate limits of said city unless the outer walls thereof be made of brick and mortar, or of stone and mortar, or of iron, backed by brick or stone and mortar with lateral walls, extending at least 10 inches above the roof, and the roof thereof be covered with fireproof material, unless such person or persons shall first obtain the consent of council. Permits for the erection, or material alteration, of wooden buildings within said territory shall be granted, where in the opinion of council, it would not be detrimental to the adjacent or contiguous property owners, and which permits must be in writing and signed by the clerk."

"It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to erect, or begin to erect any dwelling or storeroom, or other building or buildings, subject to taxation without informing city clerk in what ward said building is to be located, whether brick or frame dwelling, or store room, or for what purpose said building is to be used, the probable cost of same and upon what lot or part of said lot said building is to be located, and obtaining a permit as required elsewhere in this ordinance.

"Every permit issued by said clerk shall show in what ward said building is located, and for what purpose said building is to be used, the probable cost of the same. Said clerk shall keep ar accurate record of same and furnish the assessor of each ward a detailed statement of same by the third Monday of April of each year."

The ordinance also provides that the city clerk shall be notified in case a building is burned.

A penalty of $10 is provided for failing to comply with the ordinance.

BOARD OF HEALTH

Should Care for And Buy Food for People Who Are Under Quarantine.

According to Prosecuting Attorney Brookes it is the duty of the board of health to care for and provide food for persons who are quarantined. His decision was rendered to settle a controversy between the Salem board of health and township trustees.

The prosecutor says: "It is the duty of the local board of health to take care of people under quarantine and buy them food. The board of health is then to send the bills to the city council for payment. The latter is legally bound to pay the bills. Attorney Brookes said it was the duty of the city and not the township trustees to pay the bills."

METHODS OF SUICIDE.

How Desperate Persons Adopt Prevailing Styles of Destruction.

"The remarkable methods several suicides have adopted in this city recently call attention to the fact that methods of self destruction are largely matters of suggestion," said a doctor. "When a man gets in that condition where he The following is taken from the wants to die, he has little inventive ability and adopts the method that has been brought to his mind. You will notice that after one person kills himself with acid there follows a long list of acid suicides. It is the same with any unusual method. One person gets up > original way, and that inspires the ext one to try his hand until we have

"I have proved this theory. Several years ago I was discussing this feature of suicide with several friends, including the coroner. They ridiculed my theory. I offered to prove it. It happened that shooting and hanging were popular just then. I wrote an article for a newspaper on the horrors of strangulation and pistol wounds and explained the ease with which one could kill himself with prussic acid. Death from prussic acid, you know, is absolutely instantaneous and, many believe, painless. There had not been a suicide with this acid for more than a year, but within a week after the article was published there were four, and one of the unfortunates had clippings of my article in his pocket.

"Of course I was accused of killing these four by suggestion, but I was for when once a person has decided to ter. No person in his right mind will commit suicide. We all know in our sane moments of easy ways to end life, but when in the suicidal frame of mind nature seems to rob us of our reason in this direction, as if in a desperate hope of preventing the sacrifice."-New York Mail and Express.

HOUSES ON "MADE" GROUND

The Reason They Teem With Malaria and Noxious Gases.

Good gravel has so largely come into request that many suburban lands with that valuable substratum are quarried to a considerable depth before being sold on building leases. But it is essential to restore a level surface, as even the most speculative builder would besitate to run up "neat villa residences" in deep holes. The owner frequently gets over this difficulty by allowing urban refuse to be shot into the excavation; in many cases he even exacts a small sum for every load tilted on his ground. The surface being thus leveled, a year or two are allowed for the soil to sink and become compact. Occasionally grass is sown to give a natural appearance to the spot.

All is now in readiness for the builder, who proceeds to lay the foundation for his "terraces," "avenues" and "gardens," which he subsequently advertises as "on gravel soil." So they are, but between their ground floors and the gravel lies a thick stratum of partially decomposed rubbish, teaming with malaria, and not for many years will the deposits cease to give off noxious gases.

But the tenant, coming from a different locality, knows nothing of the "making" process to which the plot has been subjected. When, therefore, ill health dogs his family, he puts it down to defective drainage or some other structural deficiency and spends money freely on remedial measures without the least benefit. All this misery might be prevented if it were legally prohibited to build human habitations on decomposed refuse until the soil had acquired a wholesome character.-London Globe.

How They Treated Washington.

As an example of the progress of medicine during the last century The Medical Record cites the case of Washington's last illness. He died of laryngeal diphtheria, and the treatment was, it would seem, for an old man sick with a disease, very exhausting to the vitality. It consisted in the abstracof blood, the administration of about 20 grains of calomel and 6 grains of tartar emetic and an injection, with external application of blister. And yet so strong was Washington's constitution that he survived this treatment for 24 hours.

It the story, while in pursuit of her household duties the maid noticed a man's foot inside the clothes closet. She did not scream, neither did she jump at the door nor shut it with a bang. Instead she took a broom and began to sweep that corner of the room near the closet. Her approach was gradual, and the sweeping was done so naturally that it would not have aroused the most suspicious burglar. At last the broom brushed the door gently, but hard enough to close it to the fraction of an inch. With five or six more gentle sweeps that closet door was shut and almost latched. which she at length succeeded in doing by gently pressing her arm against it.

As the telephone in her house was so pear the closet that the burglar would be able to hear her if she called for assistance, she bethought herself of another plan. In the back yard some telephone linemen were at the time making repairs on a wire that runs to another house in the block. She went out and spoke to them. They promptly tapped a wire, attached a testing instrument and called up one of the down town exchanges, which in turn got the house owner, who in his turn called up police headquarters. From there the call was sent to the police station nearest the house, and two policemen were sent around and got the man curious expedients that have been used to clear the tracks in cases of railroad wrecks." said a well known railroad official recently, "but the methods used on a small railroad not far from Baltimore a few years ago to clear the tracks and incidentally save a fine engine from serious damage were the most original I ever heard of.

Novel Use For His Fodder. "I have heard of some strange and

"The wreck had been caused by ice forming on the rail from an overflowing tank near the trestle. The train

'If we only had something soft to drop it on and then hoist it back,' said one official, 'we could manage all right.'

"This remark gave a farmer of the neighborhood an idea. He offered to sell his big stock of corn fodder. The plan was to pile the fodder from the ground underneath the trestle to with in a few feet of the track and then topple the engine over. The plan worked well, and owing to the elasticity of the fodder the engine was not damaged in the least."-Baltimore Sun.

IN REMEMBRANCE OF LINCOLN.

By Rev. T. De Witt Talmage.

Copyright 1901, The Christian Herald.

The first time we saw him, we fol- steamboat cabin in which President had come to Washington to tell the ing man I ever saw. He had a faraway look. He evidently, while standing under the fire of an address which was being made to him, saw the battle fields and hospitals and conflagrations and national bereavement. One of his great trials was that of being subjected to advice by people of all sorts who had no qualification for giving advice. When one of our party asked for his autograph, he cheerfully gave it, asking, "Is this all I can do for you?" At that time he was the most abused man in America. Today he is the most admired man in all our country's history, with the exception of Washington. My friend, the late Henry W. Grady, then the editor of the Atlanta Constitution, and a typical Southerner, startled the north with his appreciation of Abraham Lincoln. It was at a New England dinner at Delmonico's, New York, ten or fifteen years ago. I had in my remarks spoken of the typical American, and that he would appear 50 or 75 years from then, and that he would be a compound of many nationalities, that he would have all the best of their characteristics Mr. Grady following, said: "Mr. Talmage has spoken of the great American as coming 50 or 75 years from now. Gentlemen, I have to tell you that the typical American has come. He was Abraham Lincoln!" The effect was electric. That sentiment uttered by a Northen man would not have had such an effect, but it was uttered by a Southern man, whose father fought and died on the Southern side. The whole world now loves the memory of Abraham Lincoln. He was the impersonation of kindness. On my desk as I made this paragraph is a letter in his own handwriting. It was yesterday presented to us by a friend. It was written before the days of typewriting, and is in Mr. Lincoln's own penmanship. The Methodist conference assembled in Baltimore had passed a resolution of encouragement and sent it to Mr. Lincoln, and this is his re-

"Gentlemen-In response to your address, allow me to attest the accuracy of its historical statements; indorse the sentiment it expresses and sure promise it gives.

"Nobly sustained as the government has been by all the churches, I would utter nothing which might in the least appear invidious against any. Yet without this it may fairly be said that the Methodist Episcopal church, not less devoted than the rest, is, by its greater numbers, the most important of all. It is no fault in others that the Methodist church sends more soldiers to the field, more nurses to the hospital, and more prayers to heaven than any. God bless the Methodist church -bless all the churches, and blessed be God, who, in this our great trial, giveth us the churches.

"A. LINCOLN."

May 18, 1864. There is in the chirography of this letter a calmness, a confidence, and a clearness which give no suggestion of the horrors through which the country was then passing. Every comma, semicolon, and period is in the right place. Abraham Lincoln was a Presbyterian. yet in this letter he especially compliments another denomination, and asks for the divine blessings on all the denominations. There will probably never be another Abraham Lincoln, for the reason there will probably He was a great sufferer through his erly winds. sympathies. General W. T. Sherman showed me, many years ago, in his home at St. Louis, a picture of a ciry Co.

We as a work of art, but General Sherman do not know who the committee was. kept it to bring to mind what was said The president was the saddest look- in that interview. He told me that President Lincoln exclaimed in a great outburst of grief: "I cannot stand it any longer, this bloodshed; how can we stop this war?" What a suggestive picture it was when one had explained to him what occurred in that steamboat cabin. Assassination always kills the wrong man, and a worse deed than the taking off of such a president cannot be imagined. Well may the nation celebrate the anniversary of the birthday of the most renowned man of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries, who once said of himself: "Of course, when I came of age I did not know much; still, somehow I could read, write and cipher to the rule of three, but that was all. I have not been to school since. The little advance I now have upon this store of education I have picked up from time to time under the pressure of necessity."

Henry W. Grady was right when he corrected me at the Delmonico dinner, and said: "The typical American has come, and he was Abraham Lincoln!"

Mr. P. J. Green, veterinary surgeon says: "When attending a sick horse belonging to Mr. G. H. Gardiner, of 168 Jackson street, he remarked to me that the horse seemed to be in pain. I replied that I was the sicker of the two, as I could at that time scarcely straighten up with my back from lameness, weakness and severe pains. He asked me what my symptons were and I explained to him that I had suffered for a number of years from my kidneys, that I had attacks at times when nothing helped me, and it was agony to get around, but that I could not endure idleness. The secretions from the kidneys were very high colored and acidous; that I had spells of dizziness when I could see black specks floating before my eyes and felt generally broken up. He looked up and said he had the very thing I needed to cure me in his house -Doan's Kidney Pills. He went into the house and brought me eight pills. I took them with me and I used them two at a dose. The effect was astonishing. I felt it almost at once, and went to the W. & W. pharmacy and bought a box and took them. The encouragement held out to me by the first eight pills was not mythical, as by their continued use the improvement continued and I consider no expression of praise too strong for Doan's Kidney Pills, in short they are ne plus ultra."

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY, 19, 1901.

SPEED THE DAY.

Yes, speed the day when direct rapid transit shall control between East Liverpool and Lisbon. Such a feature has become an absolute necessity. It frequently occurs that the morning east bound train is behind time on the only line of railroad communication, and connection is thus missed at Rochester, and the Lisbon bound passenger is left in the lurch. He must either go around by way of Alliance and Leetonia or drive across country, the latter course at times being next to an impossibility on account of the condition of the roads. Speed the coming of the cross-county electric line.

CIGARETTES.

Speaking with a prominent citizen and business man yesterday, he said: "I admire your defiance of the saloon and liquor traffic. They are abominable features and an outrage against civilization. Hit them, old man, square from the shoulder, and you'll lose nothing in the minds and hearts of honest and decent men and women. But, say, Cap., why in the world don't you go hot after the devils in human form breach of promise. ho are selling cigarettes to mere blackguard who is selling cigarettes to from long dressses. Of course that is putting it a little bit strong, old man; but they really are but mere children. Say, I have children of my own, and I'd rather see one of my boys drink whisky or beer than indulge in smoking cigarettes, as the vile things set a youngster crazy and imbecile more speedily than does whom I catch furnishing my youngsters with cigarettes, either by sale or as a free gift." The state officials should pay East Liverpool a quiet little visit and do some much needed detective work along this line. We'd love to see these illegal cigarette sellers behind prison bars, playing checkers with their nose.

"UNDER THE SUN."

The men who have gone before us Have sung the songs we sing. They were heard of the ancient king.

The chords of the lyre that thrill us, They were struck in the years gone by, And the arrows of death that kill us Are found where our tathers lie.

The vanity sung of the preacher Is vanity still today; The moan of the stricken creature Has rung in the woods alway.

But the songs are worth resinging, With the change of no single note, And the spoken words are ringing

"Boiler explosions are the terror of the seafaring man," said an old time deep water captain. "Such a thing is bad enough on dry land, but imagine a catastrophe of that kind at sea. In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred it means the absolute wiping out of the craft itself and every soul on board.

"The average landsman would be greatly shocked in looking over the maritime records to see how many vessels disappear each year and leave absolutely no clew to their fate. They run well up to the hundred mark, and such a mystery is not to be explained away by storms. A Chinese typhoon The fellow was almost paralyzed, may swoop down like lightning out of tell the tale. A boiler explosion, on the contrary, will blow a hole as big as a railroad tunnel right through the center of the hull, and the stricken vessel simply goes down like a shot. Timid Woman, Callous Brute.

There is an F street real estate man whose pretty home is in one of the pleasantest streets in the older part of town. He is just an ordinary man, with no particular sympathy for the fears of nervous women; he has been married 15 years, and his wife is one of those women who fairly revel in all sorts of painful imaginings and frightful forebodings. She always makes her will when she starts on a journey, and she never fails to forgive all her enemies before she trusts herself behind any kind of a horse. There has not been a night in all the 15 years of her married life that she hasn't either smelled smoke or heard burglars. Last week, in the middle of one night, the husband felt the familiar pinch which for 15 years has calloused his arm. He heard the familiar voice say the same old words:

SAM DAWSON GAVE IN AT LAST

A hearing in the case against Sam Dawson, Sherman "Moses" Call and William Call was held at 3:30 yesterday afternoon, and resulted in the trio being bound over to court.

The charge against the boys was harceny in stealing a 10-gallon keg of sherry wine valued at $13 50, the theft occurring last Thursday night, and from the attitude of the culprits when arraigned, they proposed to fight all the way through, as all pleaded not guilty.

Andrew Call was the first witness called, and although he had evidently had no part in the robbery, he knew a great deal more than he was willing to tell. He had remained at home on the night of the robbery, but his two brothers had left at 6:30 and did not return until 9. He saw the three on Friday morning and they had a quantity of sherry in two jugs. They gave him a half pint of the stuff and told him they would get more when that was gone. They told him they had a lot of it up the track somewhere, but he didn't ask any questions. On Saturday they brought the keg and a bucket down the beach, where he runs a ferry, or did until the ice stopped his business

James Brighouse testiged as follows: "I saw Sam and Bill coming down the railroad on Saturday afternoon and they were both full. Sam gave me a half pint of wine. He said he wasn't allowed to tell where he got it, but said for me to take and drink it. I drank all the half pint, and Sam said if any one asked me about the wine to say I found it."

Officer Morris testified in regard to street.

Mrs. Anna Pease said she saw Sam come down the track about 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon and supposed he was drunk, as he took her for a young girl and called to her something about his sweetheart.

Charley Pease, 10 years old, stated he was skating along the shore ice when he discovered Sam and Bill in the willows along the shore. He saw the keg, a new one, and two bottles. The keg was a new one-he was sure due on a note, and in order to secure of that.

Officer Dawson was here examined and told how, after he had found out ants were disposing of the same in about the matter he had talked to order to defraud creditors. Walter Ol-Sam's mother, who had told him Sam son filed an answer today in the case, had given her a bottle of the wine, claiming to be the absolute owner of telling her Cass McCain had given it the personal property levied upon, conto him. The bottle was submitted and sisting of go-carts, finished and unfinthe officer identified it as the same he had taken from Mrs. Dawson.

The mayor asked Andrew Call a few more questions respecting the half pint, and he testified that it was pretty good stuff.

Sam was here examined by Mayor, Davidson, but nothing could be made from him, as his countenance is as expressionless as a piece of stone. He would make a statement, then deny it in the next breath, so his honor gave up in despair.

Detective Nick Schiffler asked Andrew a few questions about an interview he had in a little office on the railroad with six of the officers, but Andy's memory was not good, and very little satisfaction was secured from him.

At the conclusion of the hearing Mayor Davidson bound the trio, Sam-Bill and Mose, over to court in the sum of $50 each, and Andy will be held as a witness.

Late in the evening the boys changed their minds and asked to be permitted to enter a plea of guilty. Sam, however, got some satisfaction from the fact that he was the last to give

The Chinese Cuisine,

Though Chinese cuisine has been credited with some utterly fabulous dishes, such as white mice served alive, which add piquancy by their squeak as they dive down the guilet, curiosities in the edible line do form a considerable list.

Bird's nest soup, for instance; a clear soup made from the refined gluten with which a certain species of swallow fasten their nests beneath nasty sounding dish, but transcending in flavor the aldermanic green turtle fat. There may be, too, on first introduction, some prejudice against fried grasshoppers. But courage in this instance is rewarded by a deliciously crisp, brown mouthful, of a delicate autty flavor.

It is a fallacy to suppose that pork forms a constant article of diet in China. As a matter of fact, it is too expensive and is only eaten on high days and holidays or at restaurants. Neither do milk, beef or game enter much into Chinese cookery, the first two being tabooed on religious grounds. Dog flesh is eaten in the south but rarely and only by the poorest of the poor.-Blackwood.

A Curious Receipt.

Hanover's registrar discovered a very curious document some time ago as he was looking through a bundle of papers that date back to the eighteenth century. The document is a receiptprobably the only one of its kind in existence—which was given to a Hanoverian captain by a canon of Duisburg during the Seven Years' war.

"I, the undersigned," it reads, "hereby acknowledge that I have received 50 blows of a stick, which were inflicted upon me by a lieutenant of Captain B.'s regiment as a punishment for the stupid and frivolous calumnies which I have uttered in regard to the regiment of chasseurs. For my imprudent words I now admit that I am profoundly sorry. I received my punishment lying on a heap of straw and held by two men, and I bear testimony to the fact that the officer struck me as vigorously as he could with a stick that was as thick as my finger.

FEDERAL FEOPLE IN MAJORITY.

The Cornegie Sale Said to Be Practically Accomplished - Minority Said to Be Satisfied-Morgan Objected to Water In Stocks of Some Other Concerns.

New York, Feb. 19.-The Times was expected today to say in part:

"One important step has been taken incident to the formation of the great steel combination. That colossai undertaking proposes more than merely the consolidation of leading iron and steel making plants. That is most important and by far the biggest way are comprehensive enough to include the acquirement of control of certain coal and iron railways operating in what will be the iron and steel territory. This first reported accom-Wheeling railroad. Final details in this transaction were completed on Saturday and yesterday (Monday) at the banking offices of Blair & Co. and J. P. Morgan & Co.

Pittsburg. Feb. 19.-It was announced yesterday in authentic Pittsbut the minority of the Carnegie Steel company by the Morgan interests had been concluded, that the obbe acquired and that the properties fiscal will be natives. would be absorbed on a basis of "no water."

It was stated positively by those who know and who are to be relied This Government Will Not Allow Particiupon that no objection will be made by the minority Carnegie interests, as they have been guaranteed satisfactory treatment at the hands of the Morgan syndicate. It was said that before Mr. Carnegle signed the option to his control he stipulated that all of his young partners should be satisfied before the sale should be consummated.

The morgan interests offered $1,500 of preferred stock in the new company to be formed, with an equal amount of common as a bonus, for each $1,000 share of the Carnegie company. This proposition was submitted to the Carnegle stockholders of the "Carnegle faction" last Monday by President C. M. # DISCRIMINATION.

Gage Says Russia's Charge Don't Hold Good.

INDIRECTLY PAYS SUGAR BOUNTY.

For This Reason Her Sugars Come Under the Same Section as Do Those of France, Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands, Etc.

Washington, Feb. 19.-Secretary Gage received a number of inquiries in regard to his recent action as to Russian sugars, and he seut answers substantially as follows:

tast. relative to countervailing duty on Russian sugars, I have to inform you that, after careful consideration of the effects of the Russian law and regulations upon the price of that commodity for home consumption and the price for exportation, as exemplified in reports from our consuhar officers in Russia, this department has arrived at the conclusion that Russia indirectly pays or bestows a bounty on the export of sugars within the meaning of section 5 of the act of July 24, 1897, and consequently that it was my duty under the law to proclaim the net amounts of such bounties for the assessment of additional duties, which was done by departments circular No. 10, of Feb. 14. 1901.

"It is to be regretted that the Russian minister of finance should have considered this action in the light of a discrimination on our part against the Russian commerce, as stated in our recent daily press, and have withdrawn from our imports into Russia the privileges of the conventional tariff of that country, to which the United States is entitled under 'the most favored nation clause' in our treaty of commerce and navigation with Russia of 1832.

"The allegation of discrimination appears to be unfounded in view of the fact that sugars coming from other bounty paying countries, such as France, Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands, etc., are subjected to additional duties under said section 5, and that, unless the above stated conclusion of this department is reversed by a competent tribunal, the exemption of Russian sugars from additional duty would rightly be regarded by the other bornty paying countries in favor of Russia.

"It is hoped that upon proper presertation of the matter to the Russian government by our department sian minister of finance will be revoked."

ST. LOUIS FAIR BILL PASSED.

It Saved My Life.

Extreme cases of disease test the real value of a medicine. Many "tonic" and "stimulant" preparations, which have no real medicinal value, seem to brace up the users when they are feeling "played out." Any stimulant will do this whether bought at the liquor store or drug store. The true test of a medicine is when life itself is staked on its remedial power. In hundreds of such cases Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been the means of saving life

"I had been a great sufferer for several years, and my family doctor said I would not be a living man in two years, but, thahk God, I am still living," writes Mr. George W. Trustow, of Lipscomb, Augusta Co., Va. "Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is what saved my life. I had heart trouble so bad that I could not lie on my left side without a great deal of pain. I was nearly past work when I commenced your medicine, but I can do about as much work now as any man. I cannot say too much for the benefit I have received."

when even the "family doctor" had pronounced sentence of death.

Many diseases, named for the organs affected, as "heart disease," "lung disease," "liver complaint," etc., are perfectly cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which cures through the stomach diseases which originate in the stomach.

ALWAYS HELPS. ALMOST ALWAYS HEALS.

Worth the Difference.

In S. L. Powers' story at the Middlesex Bar association dinner the lawyer tried the case for the complainant. She sued a middle aged gentleman for breach of promise. He married another girl. The jury retired, and the defendant also went his way. The jury returned, the defendant did not. The jury found for the plaintiff in $800 damages.

The lawyer met the middle aged gentleman a few minutes later in the lobby of an adjacent hotel. "Squire," said the latter, "how did the jury decide?"

"Against you," was the answer.

"I didn't think they would do that," said the middle aged gentleman musingly "What's the damages?"

"That ain't so bad!" he exclaimed, on being told. "Squire, there's that much difference between the two women."-Boston Herald.

The Smothering Scene.

As to stage appointments, there twere no plush or velvet curtains or couches draped with satin in early days. The furniture was as unpretentious as the costumes. Indeed on one occasion when a lady was playing Desdemona to her husband's Othello a disastrous and at the same time ludicrous effect, though of course unrehearsed, had been imminent through the lack of even a nail or two to make an old stool uteady.

It was the smothering scene, and the couch was made up of two chairs and a rickety stool covered, or course, with the simplest draperies-a red merino curtain trimmed with yellow worsted fringe. Imagine a Desdemona endeavoring to recline gracefully, all the while feeling portions of her couch sliding from under her. This is how the scene was played out:

Desdemona-Kill me tomorrow; let me live tonight. (I'm falling, dear!)

Othello-Nay, if you strive- (Keep quite still.) Desdemona-But half an hour. (Oh, hold me!) Othello-Being done, there is no pause. (1'11 push the stool under.)

Desdemona -- But while I say a prayer. (Do be quick, Robert, it is slipping.) Othello-It is too let

Which, indeed, it was, for the bed collapsed, and Desdemona's body lay upon the floor, her head upon the sole chair, which stuck to its post faithfully.-Gentleman's Magazine.

Would Like Some,

"What do you find in that stupid old paper to keep you so busy?" petulantly asked Mrs. Youngeouple.

"I was just looking at the money market." he answered.

"Oh, do they have a money market? Are there ever any bargains?"-Indianapolis Press.

Both Were Surprised.

The third time I changed cars at the Hornellsville Union railroad station and lunched at the little grillroom just up the street the jolly little proprietor recognized me as a regular patron and did his best to entertain me while my special pot of coffee was coming to a

"Notice that fellow who just went out?" he asked, chuckling contentedly

I hadn't noticed particularly, but I knew it would be disconcerting to admit, so I nodded encouragingly, says a writer in the New York Herald.

"Well," he continued, "that's Jim Smith - Long Jim Smith they call him-conductor of the Erie, and, say, he's laying for me: Greatest practical joker you ever saw. Always getting rigs on me, and I never could get back on him until last week, and then I was about as much surprised as he was.

"I was coming down the street and saw a crowd gathered around some Salvation Army singers. Long Jim was away on the edge of the crowd, standing on his tiptoes so he could see over the heads of the rest. He had his back to me, and, sticking out from under his arm, was a big bag of lemons. I saw my chance, and I sneaked quietly behind him, hauled off and gave that bag of lemons an awful swipe with my cane."

Here the little man went off into an uncontrollable fit of laughter over the remembrance.

He laughed till his sides shook and tears ran down his face. I waited till he had quieted down.

"Well?" I queried. "Scattered the lemons all about, I suppose?"

"Scattered! Ho, ho. ho! He! Hi. hi, hi! He! Hum! Well, I should say so. But they wasn't lemons; they was

The Pie Enters.

Pie in New England is served in many queer ways, especially the king of all pies, the royal mince. Not long ago there appeared a sign in the station of staid, crooked and correct Boston-a sign bearing the strange device, "Hot Mince Pie and Ice Cream."

This is a mild combination compared with one that was served in this city at a midnight supper. A Welsh rabbit was being made, and there were some who did not care to eat it on crackers; no toast in the house, for it was the fire's evening out. A mince pie was found lurking in the ice chest and pressed into service. The rabbit was spread over the pie, and both vanished in a short time. Those who ate are still afraid in the dark, for they can imagine that the same things are coming for them again as came during their dreams of that wild, weird night.

A local minister tells a pie story on himself that is a "corker." He is a delicate man, and his wife was down on pie for him and vetoed it for family use. Once he went to a convention in Pittsfield, and a dinner was served at which there were seven kinds of pie. The minister took a "little of each, please," and never enjoyed himself so much in his life.-Baltimore American.

Why Bees Work In Darkness.

Bees go out all day gathering honey and work at night in the bive, building their combs as perfectly as if an electric light shone there all the time. Why do they prefer to work in the dark? is often asked. Every one knows that honey is a liquid with no solid sugar in it. After standing it gradually assumes a crystalline appearance or granulates and ultimately becomes a solid mass.

Honey has been experimentally inclosed in well corked flasks, some of which were kept in perfect darkness, while the others were exposed to the light. The result was that the portion exposed to the light soon crystallized, while that kept in the dark remained unchanged.

Hence we see why the bees are so careful to obscure the glass windows which are placed in their hives. The existence of the young depends on the liquidity of the saccharine food presented to them, and if light were allowed access to this it would in all probability prove fatal to the inmates of the hive .- Weekly Bouquet.
